Eunice Rakhale-Molefe

EUNICE RAKHALE-MOLEFE is the founder and owner of Book Tourism, an independent publishing house. Book Tourism is a South African registered company that she founded and established in 2017. The objective of this ambitious venture is to:

- Preserve South African heritage through book publishing,
- Promote reading and tourism through authentic storytelling,
- Make the books available to school and public libraries,
- Offer the published books as part of the tourists' travel packages.

Since inception the company has published thirty titles, the majority of them by first time authors who have never published a book before. One of these, Thembeke Cynthia Sesi from Dobsonville, Soweto, won the PanSALB Award for 2016-2017 in the indigenous languages category for an isiXhosa language anthology. The other, Re Hatela Pele Ka Puo Ya Sesotho has been selected for listing on UN SDG Book Club African Chapter. The book club aims to use books as a tool to encourage children ages 6-12 to interact with the principles of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through accurate reading list of books from around the African continent related to each of the 17 SDGs.
